Take measures for quick relief and rehabilitation of families affected by flash floods in Uttarakhand

Akhil Bharatiya Vidyarthi Parishad pays its tributes to the disaster victims of the avalanche induced floods in Joshimath in Uttarakhand's Chamoli district and offers sincere condolences to bereaved families and friends. ABVP calls for the government to undertake expeditious relief and rehabilitation measures to provide aid to the survivors of this tragedy.

Nidhi Tripathi, National General Secretary, ABVP, said, "The avalanche induced flood in Uttarakhand's Chamoli district is a heart-rending disaster. ABVP hopes that the survivors of this disaster are able to get back on their feet at the earliest. ABVP volunteers are determined to extend all possible assistance towards speedy rescue, relief and rehabilitation measures. Natural disasters like these highlight the importance of eco-friendly development. While we must do everything possible to overcome the transient effects of this disaster, it becomes crucial to adopt environmentally sustainable practices for lasting growth and prosperity."
